

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the researcher provides the thesis' conclusion and recommendations to all those involved in the research.

A. Conclusion

The researcher wants to reach a certain meeting in response to the formulation of the research challenges described in the previous chapter, three research questions have been asked by the researcher, the first is what spiritual intelligence is instilled by the teacher in teaching English writing to students of MTS Swasta Al-Azis Class VIII, the second is how the teacher instills spiritual intelligence in the students of MTS Swasta Al-Azis Class VIII and the third is why the teacher instills spiritual intelligence in teaching English writing in this way. Based on the findings, it can be concluded that the spiritual intelligence instilled by the teacher in teaching English writing is fourfold, namely (1) Reciting Prayer, (2) Being Honest, (3) Say Greetings “Assalamualaikum”, (4) Incorporating Religious Values Into Teaching English Writing. First, reading prayers and Basmalah before studying so that students can receive knowledge from the teacher's teaching. Second, through doing assignments honestly so that students are more accustomed to being confident in what they are doing. Third, greeting Assalamualaikum the teacher instills spiritual intelligence, one of which is that students are required to say greetings and shake hands when meeting with teachers and friends. Fourth, input religious values into the teaching of English Writing so that students know the existence of religious values in the teaching materials. The teacher instills spiritual intelligence in teaching English writing during the learning process as well as during extra-curricular schools so that the level of spiritual intelligence of MTS Swasta Al-Azis students increased and prioritized religious values.

B. Suggestion

1. English Teacher

Teachers must instill good spiritual intelligence for students who are learning to write so that the cultivation of spiritual intelligence really runs effectively.

2. For Students

Students must understand the importance of instilling spiritual intelligence for themselves in order to become students who follow in order to be able to develop their spiritual intelligence or morality which is an important guide in the life to come.

3. For more researchers

Other researchers who are interested in this issue are needed. Researchers feel that if the research is conducted on different research participants, the results will be different. Hopefully these findings will be more useful for other scholars in the teaching and learning process.
