

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

1.1 Conclusion

From the results of the research above. The researcher concludes as follows:

1. More than 70% of students positively perceive the handout learning media used by Mts Darul Mukhlisin. Students have a high interest in learning English, so there is a need for updating methods in learning.
2. The handout learning media affects students' understanding and increases students' grades in English lessons. The benefits of the learning media itself are, first, providing guidelines for teachers to achieve learning objectives so that they can explain learning materials in the right order systematically and assist in presenting interesting material to improve the quality of learning. Second, it can increase students' motivation and interest in learning. Learning so that students can think and analyze the subject matter given by the teacher well with a pleasant learning situation and understand the subject matter easily. Handout itself is a unique and creative learning media, so students are enthusiastic about achieving achievements in the field of English. This can be seen in the grand mean, which states that the average value of the total questionnaire distributed by researchers is 35.45. This value is categorized as agree. Therefore, the researcher believes this handout learning media is suitable and effective for use in class VIII Mts Darul Mukhlisin because it can increase students' final scores.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the conclusions above, the researcher concludes to all teachers to choose a good strategy or method when teaching, especially learning English. because usually English is a lesson that students don't like, so there is a need for new learning media every year to increase the enthusiasm for learning and students' creativity when learning English, especially in the classroom.