

CHAPTER V

CLOSING

After the analyzing factors affecting the students' self-confidence in learning speaking English that have been found at MTSS Babul Ulum Medan, this chapter provides conclusion from discussions and suggestions from researchers for readers about factors affecting the students' self-confidence in learning speaking English.

A. Conclusion

In this study, it can be concluded that there were five factors affecting in the students' self-confidence in learning speaking English, how the factors are realized in affecting the students' self confidence in learning speaking English, and why the factors are realized in learning speaking English, and There are five factors in learning speaking English, they consist of: reading habit, family role, teacher, and friend, taking a community, having ability at English, and memorizing vocabulary and pronunciation.

How the factors are realized in learning speaking English, the five factors can be faced by the students when they learn English. The students who used to read book can improve their knowledge and information when they want to speak, ask, and answer. Thus, they would be more confident because they had known about the discussion. The students who were brave when they were speaking because they used to get motivation and encouragement by family, teacher, and friend. The students were more confident when they were asked by people. The students also take a community, they can get benefits for their self, they used to practice their speaking in community or course to improve their skill. Meanwhile, the students who study English seriously, they used to improve their English by memorizing vocabularies in each day and learning how to pronounce the words correctly by asking teacher, reading, and watching.

And why the factors are realized in learning speaking English because, reading habit is a factor which caused the students' can speak confidently because they used to read book and they got information and knowledge. Family role, teacher, and friend are factors which caused the students can speak bravely because they got motivation and encouragement before. Taking a community, the students will get benefit for following course to improve their understanding and skill in speaking English. By having ability at English, the students have ability will be more confident when they speak in front of than the students do not have it.

B. Suggestions

This research was conducted by the aim of knowing factors affecting the students' self-confidence in learning speaking English. the researcher hopes this research can contribute to teacher regarding factors affecting in learning speaking English and also as addition for researchers who further examine this a source of knowledge information, especially for students and teachers to know the factors affecting the students' self-confidence in learning speaking English. The researcher hopes this research can be useful for a relevant study.