[jees] Editor Decision

Fika Megawati <notification@umsida.ac.id>

10 April 2022 pukul 20.02

Kepada: Amin <amindalimunte@uinsu.ac.id>, "Dr. Fengwei Wen" <thomaswen@163.com>

Dear Amin, Dr. Fengwei Wen:

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to JEES (Journal of English Educators Society), "Shaping Political Image through Politeness Strategies in the Presidential Debates".

Our decision is: Revisions Required

Reviewer's feedback:

1. There are still a number of grammatical errors that need to be corrected, such as some of the ones in the following sentences.

p.1 The investigation of decency in presidential debates makes it possible..."

P. 1. Politeness mostly deals .....

P. 3 ...as a framework for their analysis rather than analyzing more ....

Q. 3 To analyze the transcript, the coding scheme is ...

Q. 5 This result is in accordance with ....

Q. 6 Hillary uses PPS-12 in response to .....

P.6 seems to be some preferred rhetoric.....

2. In the background section, you need to mention more clearly and in detail the benefits of your research. Politeness as one part of the debate strategy is important, but you need to detail the contribution of the results of your research in a more concrete way.

3. Please check again your use of words, such as the word "quite" in the sentence "...the final debate was high enough ..." you need to put the size illustration firmly. Avoid using "fuzzy" quantifiers.

4. In order to show that you have indeed closed the "gap", then the existing discussion needs to show a richer comparison between your results and previous studies.

5. The benefits for ESL that are mentioned in the conclusion section seem "jumping" to me, because you tend not to highlight education, especially ESL in the previous sections.

Please send the revision no later than 17th April, 2022.
